

Top tips for using the Kingdom People postcards

The Kingdom People postcards have been designed to sow the seeds for discussions around the Church's core conversation in the Autumn. However, some people have asked how they can use the postcards to begin to start the conversation now. So here are some ideas...

Look at each of the stories - what do you like about each project? What do you feel about it? Include the projects as part of your intercessory prayer.

Could you use the questions on each card to start a PCC or house group meeting? Or perhaps as an interactive session instead of a sermon

Run a series of four bible studies based on the bible verses on each card.

Think about the four words in the strapline - love, compassion, justice, freedom - how could you categorise your existing church activities using these headings?
