Soho Road Gurdwara is a busy, purpose built Sikh Temple with a large active community. Visits from school parties are welcomed. Prior booking is essential to ensure that guides are ready to welcome your group. Members of this Sikh community are extremely friendly and hospitable.

Visits are booked in writing through the main office by snail mail or Fax and addressed to the Chairman. Information required includes a proposed date(s) for the visit, time of arrival, numbers of adults and learners and an indication of refreshment requirements ie. tea, coffee, squash.

A visit will include a visit to the prayer hall where worship will be taking place and the Guru Granth Sahib will be being read. An opportunity to visit the langar and other facilities will also be made available. Shoes are removed immediately upon entering the temple. Head coverings are required for both male and female visitors. There are a few male head coverings available.
