

Theme: Lots to learn

Book: Zog by Julia Donaldson

Reflection on last week's faith in action, with the families.

What was last week's action?

How did that make you feel?

Why did that make a difference?

Prayer time

Lord God. Thank you for the opportunity to learn new skills. Help these children to learn more about you. Amen

Castle shape sheet

Theme Introduction:

We all have lots to learn and we always continue to learn – no one knows everything. Lifelong learning with help our families adjust to change and by continuing to learn we will find it easier to step out of our comfort zones and take on new opportunities.

The disciples are a good example to our families of people that were always learning, even when Jesus commissioned them to go out and spread the good news, they did not know everything. In fact, as we will never know anything neither did, they.

Theme exploration:

Jesus had to teach his friends who were his disciples lots of things. We learn lots of things each day but we can learn about Jesus by reading the Bible.

Free play suggestion:

Link to theme and with book:

- Set up a classroom area with some small chairs and either a blackboard or wipeboard.

Link with book:

- Provide a tuff tray with some sand, buckets and spades in so that the children can make sand castles.

I wonder what you are learning in the classroom today.

Craft ideas:

Link with book:

- Use the shapes page to cut out, stick and colour to create a castle.

Create a dragon using the inside of a kitchen/toilet roll. See examples: <https://laughingkidslearn.com/make-fire-breathing-dragon-using-cardboard-toilet-roll/>

I wonder what colour you are going to paint your dragon.
I wonder what shapes are you using for your castle.

Faith in action:

Read a Bible story as a bedtime story this week.

Think of something new that you can learn this week. Maybe you want to find out some information about something you don't know about yet.
